

Town Meeting Desertion By Candidates Is Shown

At present status the Town Meeting will have to sue for lack of support. Candidates for Town Meeting Member have gone "over the hill."

The "appalling" situation—and it seems to be that, frequently of late years—was revealed by Town Clerk James J. Golden this week.

For the annual Town election in March there exist 81 vacancies for the regular 3-year term and 9 for unexpired terms—a total of 90.

Up to Tuesday noon only 40 members have, signified intentions to run for re-election. Only 12 have taken out papers as candidates. This makes a possible 52 candidates for 90 spots.

On Dec. 21, Golden notified by mail, all members whose terms are expiring that they merely had to fill out the enclosed form to become a candidate. If returned by Jan. 21, the procedure of nomination papers is avoided. He also asked each Precinct chairman to inform him of changes in member status.

Postpone Action On Bill

The Joint Committee on Towns at the State House yesterday in executive session, voted to postpone immediate action on the petition for Town Manager Form for Arlington.

The committee felt that there was still some technical and legal questions that would have to be ruled upon before their recommendations could be made.

One of the important changes in the re-draft of the Arlington Town Manager bill is a new section which would allow the act to be amended by a two-thirds vote of the town meeting and a referendum afterwards. The question is whether this would

A.V.N.A. Shown Rehabilitation Film

Robbins Library Hall was well filled Tuesday evening for the annual meeting of the Arlington Visiting Nursing Association, with Mrs. Francis Chamberlain in the chair.

Dr. Benjamin Simon, medical director at Ring Sanatorium, was the speaker of the evening. Dr. Simon, former clinical director at Connecticut State Hospital, executive officer at Mason General Hospital and the recipient of the Legion of Merit for his work in neuro-psychiatry, gave a thrilling story of the rehabilitation of thousands of veterans.

The documentary film, "Let There Be Light," which followed, showed the treatment of men unable to talk, to walk, or to think, because of shattered nerves.

THIEF RANSACKS RESIDENCES HERE

Thieves were at work last Saturday along Pleasant st.

At 6:52 p.m., police received a call that someone had just entered the house at 86 Pleasant st. Upon arrival they found no one.

At 7:22 p.m., a resident at 17 Hopkins rd. reported her home had been entered during her absence.

At 7:36 p.m., Joseph Spitzer, 18 Peabody rd., called the station and said his home had been entered sometime that day while it was vacant.

Later, police suspected someone inside another vacant house on Pleasant st. Officer G. White called for help. Sgt. Fitzgibbon and Officers Hourihan, Manderina and Duggan were sent. No one was found.

It was not until Sunday evening that Dr. Gordon Saunders, 50 Pleasant st., discovered that his home had been ransacked. He and his family had been away since Saturday morning. A description of the suspected man was given by witnesses as being 35 to 38 years old, 5 feet, 7 inches, weighing 150 lbs., wearing soft grey hat and dark colored coat.

Youth To Answer "Call"

The Protestant youth of Arlington will join on Sunday, Feb. 3, in an interdenominational youth service at the Park Avenue Congregational Church. The Rev. Nathan W. Wood, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will be the speaker.

This service is the first part of Arlington's answer to the Call to United Christian Youth Action, a nationwide campaign to enlist one million youth to a deepened commitment in Christ. This will be followed by community service projects carried on by those who participated in the interdenominational service.

Those young people participating in the service are Gail Matheson, St. John's Episcopal; Lorraine Nelson, Trinity Evangelical Lutheran; Barbara Judd and Frances Perrier, First Universalist; Betty Center, Park Avenue Congregational; Miriam Hamm, Calvary Methodist; Ken Draper and Donald Smith, Trinity Baptist, and Earl Sexton, First Baptist.

Arlington is only one town in thousands throughout the country that is preparing to answer the call.

Stage "Bright" Scoop

A scoop of the Arlington Touchdown Club at a meeting last Thursday when Johnny Bright, spectacular star of Drake University, appeared.

Bright had just arrived by plane in Boston an hour before, on schedule to receive on Saturday the famous Swede Nelson Award for Sportsmanship given annually by the Gridiron Club of Boston.

Bright received national recognition when his efforts to set an all-time record for yardage gained on the gridiron was cut short, mid-season, when his jaw was broken by a vicious and unwarranted smash by an opposing tackle. Pictures showed Bright was entirely out of the play when the incident occurred.

Johnny's surprise visit was due to the adroitness of a Touchdown Club member, Jimmy Golden who is president of the Gridiron Club of Boston. He was accompanied by Joe Tomasello, chairman of the Nelson Award Committee, who said that the nationwide poll picked Bright "by a wide margin."

Hurt By Slight
In his short speech Bright said he did not mind getting hurt when his jaw was broken but he did mind the hurt as a result of not being used in the East-West All Star game. Bright was inserted into the lineup for a short time only on a "token" basis.

SOCIETY TO HOLD SPORTS NIGHT

Chairman Joe Coleman of the Philadelphia Athletics has his line-up all ready for the night of January 25 at St. Agnes School hall for the annual Sports Night.

Tom Dowd, traveling secretary of the Red Sox, will have Johnny Pesky and Walt Dropo helping him to carry on in the Red Sox tradition. Eddie Pellagrini, Phillies infielder; Mike Holovak, B. C. Football Coach, will present a movie of the Boston College-Holy Cross game.

Registration Now Open For Art School

Saturday, Jan. 26, is registration day for the second session of the popular Saturday morning Art classes.

This school was started by the Arlington P.T.A. Council in 1946 for the purpose of giving Arlington children an opportunity to develop their creative abilities at a minimum of expense to the parents.

It was patterned after an art school for children started in Austria after the first world war. This school was highly thought of in progressive art circles but, unfortunately, ceased to exist due to the second world war.

Arlington caught the "torch" and has been carrying on with the idea for the past six years. The fact the school has doubled in attendance has proven the value and need for this type of school.

The classes start at the second grade and go through to Junior High level. A class in clay sculpture has been added to give the children a new medium of expression.

A NEW 10-week course, Home Mechanics, will be started under the Adult Education program tonight at Junior High East. There is no charge. Instruction will be given in replacing fuses, repair of wiring, sash cord replacement, screen repair, and other domestic headaches.

Buys Inflammable Sweater From Men

After reading the morning newspapers about the danger of inflammable sweaters made by a manufacturer on the Eastern Seaboard, Peter Gentile of 36 River st., became alarmed and called police last Thursday evening.

He told police he had purchased a sweater the previous afternoon from two men in a car bearing a Rhode Island registration.

Patrolman J. Duggan was sent to investigate and later brought back to the station the suspected garment. Later, investigation proved it to be dangerously inflammable.

On Friday police received a teletype message from Connecticut and Worcester police asking for a check on two R. I. cars, L-9850 and L-9937. The men riding in these cars are believed to be selling men's sweaters, made of highly inflammable material.

Officials state that a lighted match in close proximity, as lighting a cigarette, will cause a burst of flame. The material is described as very spongy, "as though it had little springs in it."

It is now feared household rugs of the same stuff have been manufactured and are scattered about the country.

On Monday, Edward Schlaich, 20 Benjamin rd., reported to police he had purchased two sweaters he later found to be inflammable. He was instructed to destroy them.

QUOTATION FOR THE WEEK

"Where your treasure is, there will your heart be also."
—Matthew 6:24

chosen by the Rev. Charles M. Massey of the Arlington Heights Baptist Church.

SUPPOSE IT WERE YOUR KID

Suppose it were your kid—your girl or boy—happy, protected, cherished—with dreams of growing up to become a movie star or pilot?

What could happen to her—or to him, laughing and playing in the sun under your watchful eyes? The chances are, nothing.

But to thousands of such carefree, loved, protected youngsters something did happen last year. Dreaded, sneak-attacking polio struck at them, childish laughter was stifled. There were days of pain—of excruciating anxiety—for some, a prospect of lifelong handicap. Suppose one of them had been your girl or boy.

January is March of Dimes month and during this time all of us have a chance to act as if our own children were among the unfortunate. We can strike back at this cruel disease by contributing generously to the March of Dimes to help them.

The job of getting kids back on their feet—in a literal sense—cannot continue unless you and I and all the rest of us put up more dollars and dimes than ever before. There have been 132,000 cases in four years, triple what used to be a "normal" number.

When you see the smiling-faced lad on the March of Dimes posters or in the newspapers, think of the good that can be accomplished for him and others like him through the March of Dimes.

Suppose there were no March of Dimes, suppose it were your kid and no help at hand.

Fortunately, there is a March of Dimes. You created it and you can give it the extra backing it needs this year because there are so many kids—and adults too—dependent upon it.

A COURSE IN HOME MECHANICS

Do you get a little irritated at times with yourself because some simple repair job around the house needs doing and you are unable to do it? Are there some broken electrical switches here and there that you could fix in five minutes if you knew how to begin? Don't you think you should be able to fix a continually dripping faucet? Have you been wanting to do a little wall-papering?

The Home Mechanics Course now offered as part of the Adult Education Program is designed to solve these problems. It is designed to meet needs as outlined above and many others not mentioned. It is designed for the person, male or female, who would like to do many simple things around the house but needs a little instruction.

Interested townspeople should contact the Arlington Superintendent of Schools.

St. John's Parish will hold service in the new chapel, corner of Academy and Maple streets, next Sunday.

Arlington's popular speedway (Pleasant st.) has been the scene of several hot crashes this week and nearly all owners of speedy horse flesh have had their favorites out.

Last week a demented inmate of the local Poor Farm set fire to the barn. He has been sent to the Insane Asylum by order of the Court.

You want to look out when shopping in the big city. We hear some elegantly dressed ladies of apparently high degree have a low code of morals. Many pocket-books left on counters have been stolen. The "ladies" have a "taking way" about them.

At a meeting held last Monday members of the First Parish church voted unanimously to call Rev. John N. Mark. He is a Scotchman by birth and thirty-nine years old.

LAWRENCE WALSH

A funeral mass for Lawrence Walsh, 80, of 12 Laurel st., who died in the Symmes Hospital, was held last week in St. James Church.

Born in Newfoundland, Mr. Walsh had lived in Arlington for 25 years and was a charter member of St. James Holy Name Society.

Before he retired he was in the iron business.

Dies Suddenly

The police ambulance was rushed to 105 Mt. Vernon st. last Thursday morning upon call from William R. Dunn that his wife had collapsed.

Upon arrival at Symmes, Mrs. Mabelle R. Dunn, 61, was pronounced dead by Dr. Tittlebaum. Funeral services for Mrs. Mabelle Rice Dunn, 61, of 105 Mt. Vernon st., wife of William R. Dunn, a retired telephone company engineer, were held Jan. 14 at the Hartwell Chapel. She died at her home.

She was born in Allston of Revolutionary ancestry, and had lived in Arlington 40 years. A member of the Rice Associates and Pleasant Street Congregational Church, she was formerly a member of the Arlington Woman's Club.

Besides her husband, she leaves a son, William R. Dunn Jr., of Glendale, Calif., and a granddaughter.

HORACE G. TAYLOR

Horace Greeley Taylor, 75, of 65 Kensington park, retired vice-president and manager of the Arlington Gas Light Company, died Wednesday night of last week in the Symmes Arlington Hospital.

He retired five years ago after 12 years with the Arlington Gas Light Co., and earlier, for more than 25 years, was manager of the Lawrence Gas & Electric Co.

During World War II he served on the Arlington draft board. He was born in Trenton, N. J., and moved to Arlington from Lawrence 17 years ago.

He was a graduate of Stevens Institute, Hoboken, N. J., and was a member of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity. He was also a member of the Arlington Rotary Club and Guild of Gas Managers, Boston. He was formerly active in the Arlington Community Chest.

Mr. Taylor leaves his wife, Eugenia M. (Flanagan), and a daughter, Mrs. George C. Dolloff of Arlington. Funeral services were held Saturday.

COMMENTS POLICE

Archie F. Bullock
Chief of Police
Central St., Arlington
Dear Chief:

I would like to repeat the compliments of the doctors at this hospital. They said when they set my bones after a recent accident in Arlington, "This man received unusually good police care after his accident. His recovery will definitely be speeded by the fact that he was handled intelligently all along the line."

I know this commendation is typical of the kind, frequently received by your well run department. But I thought it important to pass along their words of praise so that the officers involved would know that their efforts were appreciated.

I would particularly like to thank Officer Smith who came upon the accident, summoned the doctor, and called for the ambulance. It is policemen like him that make many of us glad that we live in Arlington. I would also like to thank Officers Taylor and Keating who responded to his call and rushed me to the Symmes Hospital.

I would also like to thank Sergeant Sullivan who investigated the accident co-operating completely with the doctors who were treating my injuries.

Respectfully,

That Man About Town

By MAI

Through a friend we hear that the Town will be requested to set up a committee to study a plan which actually cuts taxes to home-owners. This is done by attracting new businesses to a town by the process of making the municipal tax rate only half of the tax rate on the land. This seems fantastic but it has been working in Pennsylvania since 1914, when an act of the Legislature made effective the so-called graded tax plan in Pittsburgh and Scranton.

A committee, officially ordered to study and report on this phase of taxation, can, in years to come, be a boon to the taxpayers. We sincerely hope the committee will become a reality.

The economists would like you to know that inflation is more than a theory to them. At their annual meeting in Boston 2,000 of them forked over a registration fee of $2—just twice what it was last year.

It's time for your annual mathematical headaches in preparing your state and federal income taxes. Like death, you must face them and take it on the chin. We note, that while the deductions for children and dependents are lifted, the increase from 1 1/2% to 2 1/2% in the tax costs you more dollars than last year, even if your income remained static. In other words, a sop before the bludgeon falls.

Writing about committees reminds us to again request action from all committees appointed by the Town. So far we know the Town Manager committee is active. Rumors have it that the Central Purchasing Committee is again moving and will bring in some definite recommendations. Here is a town project which can save money by bulk buying. It has been proven in towns and cities, and industry always does it.

We also hear that the committee investigating the garaging of Town owned vehicles has done a real job of research and has gathered enlightening figures.

A few years ago, the Town adopted a phase of street building which cuts the cost to residents by at least 50%. Several hundred residents attended a hearing by the Joint Board of Survey and clamored for its adoption. After it was approved, many new streets were built. While estimates given abutters before construction were fair, the cost, after construction, was less. Prices ran the gamut from $300 to $500 per lot on the new and so-called Class B streets. In comparison to the $1000 or more figures of Class A construction, this was a needed move if Arlington was ever to finish some 60, more or less, miles of unfinished streets.

The bulk of the construction was let out to private contractors, who know their jobs. Town labor was used on others, and between both parties, an excellent job was done.

The latest news we picked up is that, for some undercover reason, costs have now reached the $1000 figure, more or less, per lot. Well, we asked several who are concerned and were told that the Town Engineers are not definitely adding curbs and sidewalks which build up the costs. This was NOT part of the original agreement between the abutters concerned and the Joint Board of Survey when operations first started. Who changed it and why?

It might pay those responsible to check into the slowness of the operations of the Town Engineering department, which, we understand, is away behind on the estimates for new streets which are being requested. It might also pay some officials to take their heads out of the sand and see what is going on. Sooner or later, an explosion may come, which will be no end embarrassing to our top officials. Nuf sed?

TODAY'S Meditation

OUR MISSION TO WIN SOULS

You are the light of the world. (Matthew 5:14.) Read Matthew 5:1-16.

It has been said that the Sermon on the Mount is the constitution of the Kingdom of God, and that in it we can find the nature of the citizens of that Kingdom and their duties and responsibilities. One of these duties is to be the light-bearers of God.

One of the fundamental ideas regarding this specific duty is that our light is not original with us; the Lord Himself is the original Light. Ours is a reflected light, even as moonlight is reflected sunlight. How can we shine in a world of darkness and of sin? How can Jesus shine through us? We must first become His followers; indeed, we must possess the life of God as it is in Jesus Christ.

Our responsibility is to remain true light-bearers. We must keep ourselves clean, even as the glass reflectors of a lighthouse are made clean. The light we bear, depending upon the kind of light we reflect, will mean life or destruction for others.

It is Christ's light in us that keeps us apart and distinct from others, and that creates in us the desire to see others come into fellowship with Him.

PRAYER

Our Father, Thou art the source of our light. We know we cannot reflect the light of Thy salvation unless our own lives first are free of the power, tarnish, and stain of sin. Help us to shine as lights for Thee. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father.

Eliza A. Pascual (Philippines)

Red and Gray Jottings

by Janemarie McKelvie

A delegation from Arlington High attended a supper and a discussion at the United Council on World Affairs. The subject, "What Road Should be Taken in Order to Establish World Government?" was thoroughly discussed. The group included Jane Beauchemin, Robert Card, Kenneth Cumming, Mary Green, Joan Grieve, Patricia Johnston, Alan Laufman, John McLaughlin, Robert Stengle, Nancy Stetson and Mr. Johnson, head of the history department.

At the last meeting of the Dramatic Club the various committees for the annual play were explained. Rehearsals for the play are now underway and many students can be heard practicing their lines diligently. Entertainment was provided by Mary MacNeil, who gave a monologue, and by Ernestine Caviechi, who sang with Barbara Judd as her accompanist.

Seniors are now taking out nomination papers to be candidates for office in the Massachusetts student government to be convened at the State House in late March or early April.

The next issue of the "Chronicle" is expected very soon. Such interesting features as a poll on a question of current importance, a worthwhile editorial, and accounts of the activities of the clubs at A. H. S. are expected.

Introducing Gail Matheson
Lively and intelligent "Gail" takes an active part in activities at A. H. S. and particularly enjoys debates of the Discussion Club. She also is a member of the Camera Club, the Dramatic Club, G.A.A., the Year Book Committee, and the "Chronicle". She has always been an outstanding student, with her name on the honor roll most of the time. Her outside interests include Rainbow Girls, in which she is the Recorder, and teaching Sunday School at St. John's Episcopal Church. Gail is greatly interested in the Arlington Protestant Youth Council, of which she is president. Next year will find Gail either at Radcliffe or Simmons where she is bound to be a success.

ANOTHER WIN

The Red and Gray basketball five added another victory Friday on its home court to the two wins chalked up last week. The locals coasted through to a 56-44 victory. The second team lost, 30-24.

Tracksters Lose To Watertown High

Coach "Doc" McCarty's indoor track team lost to Watertown Saturday, 47-30, at the Boston Armory.

Watertown has been Arlington's most formidable rival for several years, both indoors and on the cinders.

It was nip and tuck until Watertown copped the relay in good time at 2:11.6. Exclusive of the relay, Watertown won five firsts to the Red and Gray's three.

Local blue ribbon boys were Bill Squires in the mile; Bill Crawford, 300-yd. run; Bob Sullivan, 1000-yd. run.

Persecution!

Whenever people have been barred from showing their deep love of God, the faith with which they have been blessed increased the more it was suppressed. And, that's the way it is today wherever communists hold sway. Despite the bans that they impose, the object of their hatred grows.

For increased pleasure in entertaining, keep a sufficient stock of wines and liquors on hand. It's nice to have friends drop in and then be able to serve them their favorite drinks. ENGAGEMENT

Slade - Walker

Mr. and Mrs. George G. Walker of 22 Lennon rd. announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Hall Walker, to Mr. Kenneth H. Slade Jr., son of Mr. 1950. He served in the U.S.A.F. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Slade of 38 during World War II.

FLARED FOR SPRING

A new two-piece dress styled with a flare for next spring is made of a novelty checked surah woven with Celanese acetate. Designed by Joselli with double-breasted closing, smart notched revers and flared skirt, it may be worn with a taffeta petticoat as photographed or a straight slip for a softer line. Because it dries so beautifully, it will emerge fresh as a daisy next spring for the early coatless days. (ANS)

NOTED RESIDENT TO ADDRESS CLUB

Dr. Clair E. Turner of 19 Village lane, Arlington, a consultant to the United Nations World Health Organization, and Unesco, in Geneva, Switzerland, will be the principal speaker at the next meeting of the Arlington Women's Club next Thursday.

Kids Love Florida Lollipops

Nickles and dimes being at a premium these days with the small fry, you can help their budget problems by letting them make lollipops at home. Easy as freezing ice cubes, when they use Florida tangerine or orange juice, and an easy way of being sure that they get plenty of Vitamin C to help replenish their energy. These nutritious and refreshing goodies are sensible, too, since canned Florida citrus juices are at least 25% lower in cost than they were last year, and in good supply. Simply pour the juice into the ice cube tray, and when partially firm, insert headless match sticks for handles, or use the new paddle pop forms available in many variety stores.

WOMAN DRIVER!

Here is a chance for the men of the town to see what makes that Woman Driver tick!

At the mock trial to be conducted by the League of Women Voters at the Junior High School East on Wednesday evening, January 30, at 8 p.m., the jury will have to decide whether the driver was justified in bringing suit against the taxi driver whose car was in collision with hers at a traffic light.

The plaintiff, played by Mrs. Richard Uhle of 24 Grand View rd., will have as her lawyer Town Counsel Russell T. Hamlet, while the taxi driver defendant, played by Mr. David Ashton of 107 Appleton st., will be defended by Atty. John O. Parker of the Planning Board. Presiding over the trial will be Judge Lawrence Brooks of the Middlesex District Court in Malden, who will see five jurors in proper procedures.

that the trial procedure is correct in every detail.

Testifying for the plaintiff will be Dr. David Gersh of 1025 Massachusetts ave., and for the defense, Dr. Richard J. Moran of 206 Massachusetts ave., while the nurse in the case will be played by Mrs. Harold B. Wood.

Although the mock trial promises to be full of humor and highly entertaining, the League is sponsoring it primarily as a public service to instruct men as well as women in the procedures of jury duty.

Many judges and lawyers have expressed the feeling that it fills a need for instruction in a field where general public ignorance prevails.

Beginning in 1920 the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts worked for jury service for women, and now that it has become law, many local Leagues are seeking to instruct prospective jurors in proper procedures.

Wash Those Blues Away

These days you owe it to yourself and to others to keep your spirits up and your morale high. The world needs people who don't get down-hearted, who are able to stay on the job, nerves steady and chin up.

Sometimes the simplest prescription is the best. And that's true of chasing the blues and bucking up morale. What can be better for this purpose than a good old-fashioned tubbing in soap and water?

You have often proved it to yourself by accident. After a good hot bath, with plenty of water and luxurious lather, you feel like a pre-inflation million dollars. It's just not human nature to feel gloomy when fresh from the tub. You have washed your cares away along with the day's dirt, and you can face the world again. No better method of building up the morale can be found. Try it and see.

Only a few precautions are needed for best results. Relax in water that is warm, but not too hot. It is the warm soapy water that makes you clean and refreshed—too hot water may be stimulating rather than relaxing. Use a long-handled brush for scrubbing your back, both for cleansing and for giving you that relaxed feeling. A brush with very soft bristles is best for both purposes.

There is a lot of difference in soaps, too, says Katherine Potter, director of beauty and grooming for Procter & Gamble. Mild, complexion soaps such as Camay or Ivory are kind to the skin and make a bath more enjoyable. They keep your skin soft and smooth—an easy way to make you ready to face the world with baby-freshness and grown-up courage.

To step up the morale, step into the tub! (ANS)

Red Cross Offers
Two, Free Courses

The Red Cross in Arlington is offering—without charge—beginning Tuesday evening, January 22, a course in Home Care of the sick, to instruct the layman in skills that are needed to properly nurse the sick patient.

Another free course on mother, baby and family health care will begin on Monday afternoon, Jan. 21 from 1:30 to 3 p.m.

Both courses are open to men and women and will be given at the Library hall. All instruction is by graduate nurses. To register for classes one should call the Arlington Red Cross Home Nursing chairman, Mrs. Robert Tait.

In the Home Care of the Sick Course which will be held Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7:30 to 9:50 p.m. for six class sessions (no class on Jan. 31) the students will learn how to take temperature, pulse and respiration, how to give bed baths and special treatments, such as steam inhalations, how to recognize and isolate communicable diseases and how to improvise sick room needs from articles already on hand, among other skills.

In the Mother, Baby and Family Health course, instruction is given in washing, feeding and general care of the new-born infant, and special attention is given to the mother and birth process and the care of the child as it grows older. It will be given on Monday and Wednesday afternoons.

—John M. McCaffery, airman, USN, son of Matthew McCaffery of 41 Pine st., is now flying Korean airlift routes to and from the Far East with Transport Squadron 8. The squadron is based at Hickam Air Force Base near Honolulu.

Kids Love Florida Lollipops

Nickels and dimes being at a premium these days with the small fry, you can help their budget problems by letting them make lollipops at home. Easy as freezing ice cubes, when they use Florida tangerine or orange juice, and an easy way of being sure that they get plenty of Vitamin C to help replenish their energy. These nutritious and refreshing goodies are sensible, too, since canned Florida citrus juices are at least 25% lower in cost than they were last year, and in good supply. Simply pour the juice into the ice cube tray, and when partially firm, insert headless match sticks for handles, or use the new paddle pop forms available in many variety stores.

WOMAN DRIVER!

Here is a chance for the men of the town to see what makes that Woman Driver tick!

At the mock trial to be conducted by the League of Women Voters at the Junior High School East on Wednesday evening, January 30, at 8 p.m., the jury will have to decide whether the driver was justified in bringing suit against the taxi driver whose car was in collision with hers at a traffic light.

The plaintiff, played by Mrs. Richard Upde of 24 Grand View rd., will have as her lawyer Town Counsel Russell T. Hamlet, while the taxi driver defendant, played by Mr. David Ashton of 107 Appleton st., will be defended by Atty. John O. Parker of the Planning Board. Presiding over the trial will be Judge Lawrence Brooks of the Middlesex District Court in Malden, who will see that the trial procedure is correct in every detail.

Testifying for the plaintiff will be Dr. David Gersh of 1025 Massachusetts ave., and for the defense, Dr. Richard J. Moran of 206 Massachusetts ave., while the nurse in the case will be played by Mrs. Harold B. Wood.

Although the mock trial promises to be full of humor and highly entertaining, the League is sponsoring it primarily as a public service to instruct men as well as women in the procedures of jury duty.

Many judges and lawyers have expressed the feeling that it fills a need for instruction in a field where general public ignorance prevails. Beginning in 1920 the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts worked for jury service for women, and now that it has become law, many local Leagues are seeking to instruct prospective jurors in proper procedures.

Wash Those Blues Away

These days you owe it to yourself and to others to keep your spirits up and your morale high. The world needs people who don't get down-hearted, who are able to stay on the job, nerves steady and chin up.

Sometimes the simplest prescription is the best. And that's true of chasing the blues and bucking up morale. What can be better for this purpose than a good old-fashioned tubbing in soap and water?

You have often proved it to yourself by accident. After a good hot bath, with plenty of water and luxurious lather, you feel like a pre-inflation million dollars. It's just not human nature to feel gloomy when fresh from the tub. You have washed your cares away along with the day's dirt, and you can face the world again. No better method of building up the morale can be found. Try it and see.

Only a few precautions are needed for best results. Relax in water that is warm, but not too hot. It is the warm soapy water that makes you clean and refreshed—too hot water may be stimulating rather than relaxing. Use a long-handled brush for scrubbing your back, both for cleansing and for giving you that relaxed feeling. A brush with very soft bristles is best for both purposes.

There is a lot of difference in soaps, too, says Katherine Potter, director of beauty and grooming for Procter & Gamble. Mild, complexion soaps such as Camay or Ivory are kind to the skin and make a bath more enjoyable. They keep your skin soft and smooth—an easy way to make you ready to face the world with baby-freshness and grown-up courage.

To step up the morale, step into the tub! (ANS)

Red Cross Offers

Two, Free Courses

The Red Cross in Arlington is offering—without charge—beginning Tuesday evening, January 22, a course in Home Care of the sick, to instruct the layman in skills that are needed to properly nurse the sick patient.

Another free course on mother, baby and family health care will begin on Monday afternoon, Jan. 21 from 1:30 to 3 p.m.

Both courses are open to men and women and will be given at the Library hall. All instruction is by graduate nurses. To register for classes one should call the Arlington Red Cross Home Nursing chairman, Mrs. Robert Tait.

In the Home Care of the Sick Course which will be held Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7:30 to 9:50 p.m. for six class sessions (no class on Jan. 31) the students will learn how to take temperature, pulse and respiration, how to give bed baths and special treatments, such as steam inhalations, how to recognize and isolate communicable diseases and how to improvise sick room needs from articles already on hand, among other skills.

In the Mother, Baby and Family Health course, instruction is given in washing, feeding and general care of the new-born infant, and special attention is given to the mother and birth process and the care of the child as it grows older. It will be given on Monday and Wednesday afternoons.

—John M. McCaffery, airman, USN, son of Matthew McCaffery of 41 Pine st., is now flying Korean airlift routes to and from the Far East with Transport Squadron 8. The squadron is based at Hickam Air Force Base near Honolulu.

INTEREST SHOWN IN MOCK TRIAL AS WOMAN DRIVER "BRINGS SUIT"

Almost any day now the Selectmen may reach into the hat and pull out your name for jury service. Will you be as uninformated about what is expected of you as a juror as, according to many judges and lawyers, Mr. Average Citizen generally is?

All one needs to do to remedy the situation is to attend the School for Jurors to be presented by the League of Women Voters of Arlington, admission free, on the evening of January 30, at 8 o'clock, at the Junior High East Auditorium. Townspeople and students are cordially invited.

The League is most fortunate in having secured for the presiding judge at this mock trial, Judge Lawrence Brooks of Medford, presiding justice of the First District Court of Eastern Massachusetts. Acting as Sheriff will be the actual Sheriff of Middlesex County, Howard W. Fitzpatrick; the Clerk will be Charles T. Hughes of the East Cambridge Court, and the Court Stenographer will be Philip Burt.

The trial is concerned with a fictitious traffic accident, and although correct court procedure is followed in every detail, a humorous situation and a good cast of actors promise excellent entertainment. Mrs. Richard Uhle, who is playing the part of the plaintiff, is suing a taxidriver, played

OK's Life Tenure For Local Official

A bill to grant by referendum Town Treasurer and Tax Collector J. Wilbert Anderson life tenure of office has passed both branches of the State Legislature. Final approval must be given by the voters of the Town by referendum on the ballot.

If the bill is signed by Lt. Gov. Jeff Sullivan while the Governor is on vacation, by next Monday, that matter "may be properly put in" the election warrant for this March, according to Town Counsel Russell T. Hamlet.

On Monday the Senate suspended the rules and the bill was given three readings and passed without opposition. Senator Robert P. Campbell (R.) guided the bill through the procedure.

Last week the House passed the legislation, in spite of opposition, 39 to 32, by standing vote. Rep. Hollis M. Gott (R.) filed the bill.

Harold A. Cahall and Joseph Peterson, former selectmen, as well as Rep. Gott, spoke in favor of the bill before the Committee on Towns at a previous hearing.

The bill includes the names of several other officials of other cities and towns.

Opposition in the House stemmed from Democratic Floor Leader John E. Powers who said he was opposed to "all this type of legislation."

THREE MAJOR SPOTS LACK OPPOSITION

Only Four Draw Fights

The tamest election in many years, perhaps in history, looms for '52 unless a sudden rush of candidates occurs between now and Monday.

Few observers can recall when the top three offices have gone uncontested — selectman, public works and assessor.

Some see it as a tribute to the incumbents on these boards. They describe Sorensen, O'Neill and Hauser as "very strong" vote getters and say that they have demonstrated their worth to the Town.

Others feel that the circumstance reflects an alarming disinterest in town affairs. As the Town grows larger and the problems more complex, several possible candidates have said, "I want no part of it."

As the chart shows (cols. 1 to 4, on page 1) there are also few contested spots for Town Meeting members.

Four Contests

With three spots open, six candidates have announced for School Committee although one, Francis J. Higgins, may not file, it is heard.

The Advocate checked Higgins last night and he said, "I have decided not to run."

Other contests loom for Library Trustee with F. Stanley Glynn Jr., facing Mark W. Bradford, incumbent, and the recently appointed John B. Fox.

Edward J. Sennott and Nils G. Anderson, former Park Commissioner, both seek election to the Cemetery Commission.

Incumbent John S. Crosby faces a challenge from William S. Craig for Board of Health.

There follows a list of those who have taken out papers but (Continued on Page 5)

TO HOLD REINS ON PAY RAISES

School Comm. Opposes Sections in TM Bill.

The School Committee last week voted that any consideration of pay raises of its personnel be left to the discretion of the committee.

Previously, it is understood, the Personnel Board had written the Committee, asking if any changes should be considered by the Board.

In reply, the School Committee thanked the Board for its offer but stated that it chose to handle its own pay considerations.

Limit Town Manager

The Committee also voted to go on record as being opposed to certain sections in the proposed bill for town manager form of government. In the bill the manager would be given control over the maintenance of school buildings and also, have some authority over new school construction.

The Committee claims that these provisions had "proven unsatisfactory" in several towns and cities in the state.

Single Session Poll
Another poll will be taken among parents as to their opinion on the single session plan in elementary grades during the winter.

It had been pointed out that since parents approved the plan by poll two years ago, there had been no means of determining present opinion since that time.

The present one-session schedule will expire this year, on April 1st.

EVENING registration of voters will begin next week for those unable to do so at the Town Clerk's office during business hours. For times and places see advertisement, page 1.

A GIGANTIC "Mothers' March on Polio" will be held in Arlington next Thursday night, Jan. 31, from 7 to 8 p.m. A capacity crowd of enthusiastic volunteers filled the library hall last Sunday afternoon to organize this spectacular event. In this clean-up campaign to help Arlington's twenty-nine Polio victims, close to 1,000 women will call at every home where the porchlight is lighted to pick up contributions to help crippled youngsters.

A LOCAL POLIO victim needs an apartment on the first floor in Arlington so that she may leave the hospital and return home to Arlington. Mother and teenage Polio daughter will appreciate your assistance. Call the March of Dimes at AR 5-8300.

THE MARCH OF DIMES still has vacancies in several districts for volunteers to help on the Mothers' March. Call AR 5-8300 any afternoon or evening and volunteer to help a crippled youngster smile again.
